Dear Parent/Carer

Proposed School Closure

You should by now have heard that the First Minister has announced that all school in Scotland are likely to close at the end of the day this Friday and remain shut for a considerable period of time. When we have any further detail of this, including any update on SQA examinations and free school meals, we will let you know.

We continue to work hard on our readiness to maintain learning during a school closure and primary parents have already had details of arrangements today. We will provide further details of arrangements for secondary in the near future but in the meantime please find attached guidance for secondary parents on the use of 'Show My Homework' and accessing GLOW.

Yours faithfully
