Magnus Eveleigh –

Bubbly Captain Serotonin does a fun workout every day.
He leaps onto our screens in the morning, and shouts
It's time for PE - Hooray!

He likes to look on the bright side
And is always up to break sweat
With his lockdown hair tied up in a bun,
He pushes us, set after set

He bounces, he jumps, he runs on the spot
He likes to lunge, and does push ups a lot,

With his trusty wheel of fortune,
And fancy dress once a week,
He works out our bodies, and muscles and lungs,
Til we get to the point we can't speak.

My Lockdown Poem

Life in lockdown (for me) has been fun,
Or a very worrying time for some.
Clapping for carers every Thursday night,
Knowing it would help them with their fight.
Doing what we're told, sticking to the rules,
Often news headlines reporting the fools.
Winning this battle is the name of the game,
Not knowing if this world will ever be the same.

PJ Martin - The cake loving hippo – By PJ Martin

That hippo is addicted to cake see

He could eat more in a day than me

And when he goes to sleep All he can see

Are millions of cakes filling up a sea

But it's not his fault

to him going on a diet is like trying to open a vault

So, he had a think

And he learnt how to bake

And now all he eats is sugar free cake

Erin Foley- Garnier

Although I long to see you
I cannot help but feel
How much life has changed
When can we next enjoy a meal

The whole world is different now
I often sit and dream
There is nowhere else to go
But the land inside my mind, the land without a theme

Positives can be taken though
As nature heels itself
Less people out and about, less pollution
Can surely only help

One day we will get out again
I hope we've made some changes
Or the world might just decide
Again it will avenge us

Wellbeing poem- By Alice O'Flynn

Whether you are at home or at school
Every night and every day
Love yourself in every way
Listen and love those around you, do not forget
Bring a smile wherever you go inside or out let it show
Even if you are feeling down, remember you are the one that wears the crown
If you are hurt, we will help you mend
Never alone we are here till the end
Gather hope in these challenging times for at the end the sun shall rise

Wellbeing through lockdown – a 'poem' by Jaeger Heap - Lockdown is horrible, lockdown is tough

To tell you the truth we've all had enough,
When this thing got started I thought I'd have a blast
But now it's week 10 I never thought it would last
It's good to stay healthy for body and mind I try to stay positive, thoughtful and kind
The time passes so quickly, it just seems to fly
Because of all the work the teachers set, I sometimes yell 'Why???!!!'
We're in luck to be in Scotland and live where we do
To stay close to nature and family too,
The sunshine has helped to stay active outside
We even managed a day or two on a water slide
I talk with my friends often and play with them online
But it's not quite the same as being together sometime,
When this is all over we'll have a kickabout and some fun
Stay healthy, and we'll see you all when the lockdown is done.
